A WORK OF INSPECTION.

A Senate Committee Reports the Result of a Trip Down the Mississippl.

The report of the select committee of the senate of the appointed in accordance with a resolution of Feb. 22 last, to examine into the resolution of Feb. 22 last, to examine into the works of improvement in progress on the Mississippi river below Cairo, and into the methods employed in making such improvements, and also into the jetty system, was presented to the senate yesterday. The report is one of great length and goes into minute details of the work now in progress along the river. The recommendations of the committee are brief. The committee inites with the river. The recommendations of the committee are brief. The committee unites with the commission in recommendations made in a late report to the secretary of war that provision be made by law for the appropriation by suitable proceedings of land and material Beccasary in any work of Mississippi river improvement undertaken by the government; that the right of the government to the free use for channel improvement of material found on bars and islands within the river banks be distinctly declared and defined, that provision be made by the government for retaining control over areas of land reclaimed and built up from the river, also that provision be made for the punishment of persons making or assisting to make any cut-off at any neek or point in the river, or in any way interfering without authority of law with its channel or banks or any work of improvement projected by the government.

In conclusion the report says: "Your committee has not deemed it to be within the province of their mission to pass upon the merits of the engineering plans now in process of execution on the Mississippi river. In view, however, of the good work already done by them, and the manifest results achieved, and the reasonable hopes of further benefits to be derived from them by general navigation, commerce, and trade, it is recommended that the sum of $1,000,000 be appropriated for the improvement of the river between Cairo and the mouth of the lilinois river, and $1,000,000 between the month of the lilinois river and St. Paul, and for the improvement of the river between Cairo and the head of the passes, such sum of money as has been named by the Mississippi river commission in their report to the secretary of war, now before the senate, as being necessary for the further prosecution of the work vaning on in that dissebate, as being necessary for the further prosecution of the work going on in that dis-trict under their supervision. ### VENNOR'S SNOWSTORM.

Another Cold Wave Coming and Will be Here To-Day.

The snow and sleet which fell so profusely in this city yesterday forenoon stuck to the pavements and concrete readways tenaclously. The result was that by night the street surfaces were coated with a treacherous covering of ice or very slippery snow. Pedestrianism became a very difficult feat, and many persons sought safety on the cobblestoned railway tracks. Several painful accidents resulted from falls and not a few ludicrous scences were enacted by people who dropped suddenly in the direction of terra firma.

Apprehensions of a freshet were somewhat allayed yesterday evening by the cold weather. Also by the statements of Maj. Hains and the signal officers, who said there was no immediate danger.

Licut. Powell said at midnight that the cold wave in Canada had sent the mercury down in that section to 32° below zero. The wave will not be felt in Washington very severely. The temperature will only go down about 10°. It will probably be here to-day. street surfaces were coated with a treach-

The senate in executive session yesterday resumed the consideration of the Mexican treaty. The proposition to sit with open deors was defeated, upon division, by a small

The discussion which followed was generai in character and 'not' of great interest. The opponents of ratification raised the The opponents of ratification raised the question of the power of the senate under the constitution to fake action which would be in effect a medification of the revenue laws, and argued that such action required the concurrence of the house. It was also said, in opposition to the troaty, that the Mexicans were a people of simple habits and primitive tastes, that the country was thinly inhabited, and that, at best, its would afford but a very limited market for our manufacturers.

Friends of the treaty replied at considerable length, meeting the constitutional objections with precedents, and pointing out in detail the advantages to be reaped from reciprocal trade relations. The cultivation of coffee in Moxico would, it was said, be stimulated. lated, and the price to the American consumer be greatly reduced thereby. Coffee to be sure was now upon our free list, but Brazil had placed a heavy export duty upon it, and this would in time be taken off in order to compete with the product of Mexico. Then the spread of the Gospel and the highest form of civilization were among the things not to be disregarded in considering the matter. The doors were opened at 4 o'clock and the senate

The New Spanish Trenty.

The President yesterday transmitted to the senate a long communication from the secretary of state relative to the new Spanish treaty, which does away largely with the disoriminating duties on commerce between the United States and the islands of Cuba and Porto Rice. Referring to the fifth section of the treaty Secretary Frelinghtysen says that no proposition has yet been made for the negotiation of a special treaty of commerce and navigation to govern the material rela-tions of the Spanish Autilies to the United States. In view of the preponderant and in-timate relations between these islands and the United States the matter, he said, de-mands that every consideration he given to mands that every round cratten he given to any possible means to developing closer rela-tions, of extending the markets of both coun-tries, and of freeing their mutual trade from the vexations burdens now resting upon it.

ARRESTED AT A FUNERAL.

The Stringency of the Law in Relation to Certificates of Burlal.

Mr. George P. Zurhorst called at the office of the health officer Monday to get a certificate of burial, but found the health officer out. He then requested the clerk to make out the certificate, who refused, on account of the certificate of death being made out by Dr. Lewis, of Bladensburg. Mr. Zurhorst then proceeded to the office of the commissioners, as the hour appointed for the funeral was at hand, and saw Commissioner Edmonds, who gave him permission to make the burial, and while, the funeral was on its way to the while the funeral was on its way to the cemetery Officer Marrarrested Mr. Zurborst, by order of Health Officer Townshend.

It appears that the arrest was made on account of the certificate being made out by Dr. Lewis, who is not registered, but certificates made out by him have been receipted by the health authorities several times before and burial certificates given. The carriage in which Mr. Zurhorst was riding was stopped and he arrested. The health officer has been notified that Dr. Lewis was practicing in the district and that he should be reg-istered, and no efforts were made to secure such registration from him. In this case a delay was caused in interring the remains of a person who died of an infectious and conagious discuse.

The Late Admiral Thatcher's Will. Boston, Jan. 15.-A hearing began to-day in the equity branch of the superior court in the case of Eugene H. Hinkley et al. vs. Malton S. Fowler et al., which involves the construction of a clause in the will of the late Admiral Henry Knex Thatcher, of the United States navy. After specific bequests to relatives and triends, the will contains the following clause: "I also will and during that the residue of my property, after the payment of my finneral expenses and just debts, as well as the before named bequests, be given equally to the authorized agents of the home and foreign missionary societies to aid in propagating the hely religion of Jesus Christ." The residue amounts to $31,000. The claimants are the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, the Home Missionary society, the Methodist Episcopal Missionary society, and the Messachusetts Missionary society, and the Messachusetts Missionary society. The plaintiffs are parties interested in missions, and the defendants are executors and beneficiaries of Admiral Thatcher, who claim that the residuary clause is too indefinite, and that the amount in question must revert to the heirs at law. Harley was defended by able counsel, and an immense crowd was in attendance. The charges against him were of marrying Miss Howard, of Philadelphia, and Miss Everett, of Ealtimore. to the city out of the state school fund. This sum (about $170,000) is used for the payment of the teachers' salaries, and the board de-sires, when it is paid next month, that it shall not be put to any other use. It has been the custom to turn it into the city treas-ury, and the directors of education want to protect the teachers in the event of the city becoming embarrassed.
